

SEP Software Corp. Adds Industry Veteran and Expands with Establishment of Boston Office

Oliver Biewald Joins Backup & Disaster Recovery Leader in New East Coast Location

Boulder, CO - July 2015 - SEP Software Corp., a leader in backup and disaster recovery solutions, has announced their continued expansion in the Americas with the addition of industry veteran, Oliver Biewald, as their Vice President of Channels and Alliances. The move supports the company's plans for strategic growth through channel partners and its on-going commitment to provide customers with localized services led by personnel with in-depth industry knowledge.

"We are very excited to open an office on the East Coast and welcome Oliver to our team," stated Tim Wagner, President of SEP. "His reputation in our industry is stellar and his technological expertise, aptitude for mobilizing channel partners, and leadership will further improve the value SEP offers our clients. Oliver's background and pedigree aligns perfectly with where we are coming from and where we want to go," Wagner concluded.

In his role as Vice President of Channels and Alliances, Biewald will be charged with empowering resellers, distributors, integrators, technology partners, MSPs, and OEMs to provide world-class backup and disaster recovery solutions for customers in need of automated protection of their enterprise-grade, heterogeneous environments. Biewald has over twenty years of management experience servicing national, international, and global accounts, along with extensive end user relationships and in-depth knowledge of running OEM and channel sales operations.
